ULSTER GRAND PRIX MOTORCYCLE TOUR

::: 8 to 12 August 2012

When was the last time you felt the hairs on the back of your neck stand up? Perhaps it's time you experienced the Ulster Grand Prix. In 2010, on the last lap of a sizzling six rider battle, Bruce Anstey set a new record averaging 133.97 mph over the legendary 7.4 mile Dundrod circuit. Mere feet from the tarmac you don't just watch the racing here, you feel it.

Join us for an unforgettable five day bike tour as we take in the Ulster Grand Prix and explore the stunning Antrim coast. In the relaxed Ulster paddock you can meet TT legends such as John McGuinness, Ryan Farquhar, Ian Hutchinson, Michael Dunlop and Guy Martin and then watch them go head to head on the world's fastest road racing circuit. We'll hoist one to Yer Maun at Joey's Bar and soak up the craic in the land of soft voices and hard racers.
